Jumpin' Bean Jorja

Jorja is a 3 year old 10# longhaired red dachshund / papillon / pomranian / chihuahua mix. She looks like a little fox and is super cute. She was found in a Central California high kill shelter and got an 11th hour reprieve as she was to be euthanized the night we got her due to lack of space. She was terrified, tick-ridden and sick but through all that her loving personality came through.

Now that she's well, she's ready to find a new home. She is extremely loving, sweet and loves to give kisses to her person, be pet and sit in your lap. She loves to go for walks and go for rides in the car. She is okay with other dogs but likes to dominate them and may be too playful for most cats. She can be possessive of her food and toys when around other dogs and will need some reinforcement to stop that behavior. We also think she'd do best in a home with older children, not young kids. She has one bad habit - she barks at new people and sounds until she feels comfortable. And she feels more comfortable with women than men and will initially bark at strange men. Jorja is housebroken and crate trained.
