Cat Days Of Summer?

As the days become warmer and longer, your family may gravitate toward fun-filled outside activities. Your otherwise indoor pets can become increasingly vulnerable to many outdoor dangers. One of the biggest dangers to your pet during this season can be the heat!

Remember these necessary precautions the next time you take your pet on vacation or leash them for a stroll around the block:

- Always make sure there is plenty of fresh water available.
- Create sun-free shady spots all day long so that your cat can relax and enjoy the outdoors without laying in direct sunlight.
- While exercise is very important to all pets, over-exertion can be deadly during the hot summer months.
- Sunscreen is not just for humans! Fur does not fully protect skin from the sun's harmful rays. You can apply sunscreen to all areas that are the most sensitive to the sun, especially if your cat has lighter skin and hair. Ears, temples, lips, and nose can be the most sensitive to sunburn. Also, keeping your cat out of direct sunlight between the hours of 10AM and 2PM can also decrease the risk of life-threatening sunburn.
- Cars can be a death trap! Even cracking the windows or keeping them rolled down on a hot day can turn your car into a sauna in just minutes. On a 90 degree day, your car can quickly turn into 120+ degree incinerator. It's best to leave your pet at home while you run errands, even if it's only going to be for just a few minutes.

- Maintain good grooming habits! Keep pets hair clipped short, free of mats and brushed well. Proper grooming can really help to keep your pet cool!
- Remember that your cat cannot sweat to keep cool. Cats and dogs only sweat from their paws, which does not allow for much cool-down. Your cat may start to pant if the heat is getting to be too much, this is usually the first sign of heat-stroke.

Remember these few easy rules for the summer and you and your companion will be able to enjoy many happy summer's together!

BASKET BINGO

This is our biggest event of the year that you don't want to miss! Check out our event section for more details!

Our Mission

One By One is dedicated to helping abandoned, stray, rescued, and injured cats, by providing quality shelter and foster care through voluntary efforts, for their lifetime, if necessary.

One By One will place the cat's health, happiness and well-being above all else while working toward the ultimate goal of finding the best match for the cat and the adopting family through careful screening and discussion.

Donations are needed!

Every life that enters One By One has meaning and is one more life saved! We are only able to provide for our animals through voluntary efforts and your donations. Our funds are used to keep our cats healthy- spay/neuters, dental work, vaccines, vet visits, and medications prove to be very costly, yet necessary expenses.

Please continue to support our no-kill mission, where our goal is to adopt out every cat who enters our organization one by one (or two by two, whenever possible). Donations to all non-profit organizations across the world have decreased due to the troubled economy. We are no exception, our funds are desperately low. Please help in any way possible. We really appreciate your contributions. Thank you!
